A) MEETING BUSINESS

"Before we begin, we call for students to acknowledge that the lands that the University of California locations were built upon were expropriated & founded upon exclusions and erasures of Indigenous people's human rights throughout California. UCSB is built on Chumash Land, specifically that of the non-federally recognized Barbareno tribe. As an association that pushes the student bodies' voices to the forefront, we should aim to make strides past just acknowledgment to those who continue to fight for their right to be recognized & respected as the original stewards of this land. I ask you all to dedicate time & care to personal education & to advocate for justice alongside Indigenous peoples."

B) External Reports

B-1) Chancellor's Representative-

a. Associate Vice Chancellor for Housing, Dining & Auxiliary Enterprises Willie Brown - Willie Brown (6:43PM)

- I'm Willie Brown. I'm Associate Vice Chancellor for Housing Dining, and I certainly advise them to talk about whether the two housing practices really have any progress. Student house and graduate student housing. Let me just launch into what I have. So we currently have two projects on the way right now, San Benito versus older. That was originally the old Munger project. Some of you named Munger battle years ago, and proposed doing a project for the campus. He pledged $200 million and he has two $80 million and then he walked away decades later. And so we've taken the problem back, and we are now building two projects. First Project San Benito, and that's underway.
- Second project will be on the side of campus and that's over where Santa Rosa people, family knows the tie five that area they are so San Benito guttered away in construction just a few months ago, where our targeted date of 2027 probably that it's right now. It's planned for 2024 students. It's the largest housing project we've done in one swipe during my time here. I've been here 37 years, and for every new housing project, I've been part of this team that built all new housing here through the course of that. So really, our outcome that we really desire is to make sure we can have as many students on campus as possible. We also have long development plans, and we haven't had 3500 events. So this accomplishes both of those things. And regions have set a mandate that any housing we build has to be at least 20% below the local market. I think we're targeting now moving about 3% conservatively targeting about 3% below market.
- This housing will come online first phase of 2027 and phase two over the Eastside campus in the fall of 2028 so over a very short span of time, they're bringing on 3500 net new beds, but a total of about 4000 beds. Tear down Santa Rosa Hall to build new and you'll see it for some of you. Have the diagram how you can kind of see where three new buildings are going to be.
- San Benito is, I don't know. I don't know how we'll populate initially, but long term, the first couple of years, we're targeting juniors and seniors. That would be housing. Fall apartment housing will be for juniors and seniors. The east side of campus will obviously replace Santa Rosa but we're also building what we're calling our two bedroom apartments there. Those will be, hopefully for sophomores. So long term ideas that as a first year student delivering the residence hall second year students, maybe you can gravitate to either the East Side apartments or over to San Benito, and then your senior year, Junior Senior, that have San Benito as an option here, as well as our other apartments.

- And so what we've seen historically is that students who want to stay in university housing for more than one year, they would rather be in an apartment. We just haven't had sufficient apartment stock. So this, we think, will help go the long way towards providing that sufficient stock apartments of the overall cost is going to be about $1.2 billion billion with B probably about twice the cost of what we're paying right now.
- When we built our last housing with San Joaquin in 2018 we built that for about $30,000 a bed. We believe this housing now for about 370,000 now for about 307,000 beds. So that little detour. And one things I do say about the student housing program, it's all paid by US students. There are no state dollars that come into this equation. So it really, really means that we have to adjust our student rates. These particular positives are being spread only among the undergraduate students, so only single student housing, not on family housing, and not on graduate housing.
- So that's how we accommodate that. We do that to increase our rates to cover the debt, so that, again, that rate increase has to be borne by our students, but still in the daily people come out looking pretty good in terms of what the market of the market, and our local market is really highly disadvantaged.
- And that's when we look at the local market. We study that significantly over the last probably two decades, making sure that we are touching the building housing that students can afford. Our costs are also all in so we don't pay a first and last class. If your roommate leaves you, we will replace your roommate. No utilities, no security deposit, all those things we just built into our right you already,

Ono

- When you demolish Santa Rosa where will those students go?

Brown

- Well, so it's about 500 Well, it's about 600 students in Santa Rosa now is built for 412 Yeah? So it's, it's been, we've been over capacity for a number of years now by just trying to accommodate our first generation. So we do have, we have what we call unused triples, not necessarily the best term, but we have additional capacity. So those 500 students will just be sitting right now in places that we had historically tripled in, but we're not, we haven't used them in the last couple years. So it's basically replacing those five individual spaces. We'll do that existent in the existing residence halls and apartments, but we're also going to be adding additional capacity to apartments, which we haven't done a larger extent over the last few years, we believe that space, it's kind of a one year Senator will go down and at the end of this academic year.
- So in June 26 it goes down. In the fall of 27 we open and reopen San Benito. So we're losing 500 or so the next year we're getting so it's a one year problem we have, and can be a significant problem. I don't want to downplay the problem.
- And that area is just already so congested and so big construction cranes and people and contracting the area will make it a problem. Not the best year of my life. But the main thing is that we're working with students right now, and so if any of your attributes that we just started about three weeks ago a construction mitigation. So I shared that within the last couple weeks, and when we met that really, that we'd love to have any participation, it's really, what can we do for communities so people can study us, A lot of people are off for midterms and listening to me. So whatever we can do to make sure that this is good environment

- With the added capacity here I see there's renovation on Ortega, is that going to be a full dining hall?

Brown

- No, this really relates to cost. So we're going to turn our pegging into a full service takeout. So right now, it's kind of been, we've kind of made a takeout, but it's not, in my opinion, not very elegant. So one of the things we're trying to figure out is how, you know, before covid, we had DLG had late night meals while we were here, but daily was open from 830 night till 1230 in the morning, serving a fourth meal. And so after covid, we just couldn't hire, we couldn't hire people. We couldn't hire enough people. That's maintained late at night.
- People that take out will be our opportunity to have that name, to be a 24 hour facility where people can take out 24 hours. So that's, that's the goal, yeah, and we can do that with less staff. We have seven news of maybe a better venue from, you know, eight o'clock.

Lala

- The added elegance is in terms of longer operating hours?

Brown

- Thinking about long term progress
- Kitchen would hopefully be 24 hour operation
- Late lunch, early morning

Lala

- Would it operate by current dining plan?

Brown

- Yes, though were going to modify dining plan a bit
- UCLA runs all retail operations, so it’s one dollar
- Ours is through private vendors so we still have to work that out

Sussman

- Will the added 4,000 mitigate the need for triples in residence halls?

Brown

- No, we will still need triples for the size of our admitted first year class. I think we'll keep triples as an option. It is a cheaper option. Will help with cost of attendance.
- Santa Rosa is built for a triple

Sussman
- This year we saw a 10% increase in students. Triples are very crowded
- Would you advocate for a lower enrollment rate for UCSB?

Brown
- I probably would do the opposite. That's just a different perspective. I think, you know, this campus is finding out financially, kind of pinched by now, kind of washed, in a way, you kind of get yourself out of financial pensions and enroll more students and plus returning weight loss students, so and I think the enrollment issue, I think the new Chancellor's have to solve that issue.
- UCSD are at 45,000 they're going to take 6000 so they're building a lot of housing. you drive by that place you know, but they plan for that, you know, 40 years ago, when I was there as a student. So if they have, you know, the training goes all the way from the campus all the way to the border. So it allows students and staff, faculty and workers, you know, to come in from a lot of different points
- . So their ability to recruit staff to actually do the jobs because those are the lowest paid and the hardest to get, and they're also there's also competition on those jobs. You can work in Ventura.
- We did a long race development plan for 20,000 students. Scratch, or anything. It doesn't make sense to me. And then it's currently operating on. It was 25,000 students cap. We're already at 26,000 so I hope we at least give ourselves some room to grow, and we can decide if we want to grow up to that level. I would think to myself, I would say, go for 35,000 if you don't get 35,000 then fine. You at least are going to allow a few more students to be here, which means you to do more with infrastructure, more students. Needs more student fees.
- It allows more faculty to come and support students in the work and allows a lot more things that we're not able to do because we simply don't have the money on campus. Now, we haven't been smart about our money to have to say, I'm hoping that Chancellor saunas, you know, really kind of helps us think our way on the problem and does it more collaborative way we should have never gotten involved with trying to monger, and that is costing us only, you know, probably at least a half billion dollars, maybe more times of bad decision making that that's costing all of you money. So we're hoping we're in a state of a bad business decision in the future. But I would advocate growth simply because it brings more money to campus and gives more opportunity the campus to kind of do things more for both students athletes that appreciate it

Ly
- I know the housing process now doesn't accommodate all students, it's a lottery
- They are thinking they'll get apartment housing, then they get screwed
- I know we're having more housing in the future

- Do you anticipate the housing process changing?

Brown

- I think we have to change something. I don't have a roadmap yet, but it's gonna be a lot different than how we've operated before. We've got to think a little more about how we have students. I think, as we call it, our goal is to offer housing for every student who wants it. They can be here for more years, and they so choose some students who, you know, want to explore and live elsewhere.
- One of our students, I was talking to her today because I was just talking about doing this presentation, and she lives downtown, and she loves downtown. She works at Trader Joe's downtown. Works well for her, and so we don't. It's not a force type thing. It's not a private room where students have to live on campus, but it's a choice, and we know it's because we tracked the people.
- They may want to live with us. Some people may just enjoy the new life of us. They have eight people, and they want to experience being on their own a little bit normal

Manakova

- I'm just concerned about parking.
- I don't see any spots for parking

Brown

- There's parking but students who live on campus must request a special permit
- Lot 2, sandwiched in between Santa Cruz and Santa Rosa but they're building more lots but it doesn't show on the map.

Manakova

- Would they be given priority, seniors and juniors?

Brown

- No.
- Like most UCs, won't give you a spot on campus unless you have a special need to park on campus

Sherkin

- Thank you for coming today. I was just wondering regarding your point on the 500 students who will be spread out due to Santa Rosa, obviously being torn down, my thought immediately goes to students that might need accommodations, might need to be in a double, might need to be in a single that maybe this obviously might hurt just because doubles might become triples. Now, so I was just wondering if any consideration is needed for these accommodations.
- I'm just a little bit worried if we're going to spread more students out, that it'll be harder in an already hard accommodation system for these students to be in a double or a single. So I'd love your input.

Brown

- Actually have an accommodations committee that weighs special requests every year that needs to be with one roommate or no roomates
- We have rooms in system that end up needing to be in single
- It is not a perfect system  but it makes sure students are properly placed, healthy and happy

Ono

- Is this project also going to free up the chi-5 area so other buildings can be renovated?

Brown

- Yes, were going to renovate existing ones
- Anacapa did 2014, Santa Cruz 2015
- In about ten years, we do a modest renovation, carpet, paint
- In about 20, we do full scope analysis
- All these buildings have broken bones, concrete and steel, hard to tear down
- The buildings are much taller, going 7,8, 9 stories, when we've used to do 2
- Next san diego housing is 30 stories

Lala

- You said San Diego's been planning for a while
- What's the difference in implementation?
- Why  is it so much better in San Diego?

Brown

- I think this campus has been very risk averse. I have been here 37 years.
- We had a line of credit from office of the president that would selectively buy buildings and that never has happened here.
- Change of administration, buying Isla Vista wasn't a priority
- This is a great campus, brilliant plan

Lala

- We're hearing it can be done?

B-2) UCPD Representative-

a. Cpl. Ariel Bournes – Santa Barbara Pedlets and Bike Citations

Jeff Lupo
(7:06PM)

- I am the Lieutenant of services division at UCPD, my division includes community outreach, Detective Bureau, and our CSO program
- Following up with Bly's promises from last week, I got info that's passed on regarding bike safety courses  and citations. Along with me today is corporal Ariel Bournes

- He’s going to discuss pedlets from Santa Barbara city

Ariel Bournes

- Good evening, everyone we haven't met. My name is Corporal Ariel, in UCSB Police Department, and I help oversee our community outreach team, similar to many people in the room. I am a UCSB alumni, graduated in 2012 with a major in art. Believe it or not.
- If you're not familiar with the community outreach team, our sole purpose is community based problem solving, which is our bread and butter. So what that means is, if you leave a police department to itself, they use the tools they have available, which are usually warnings, citations and arrests. But if you take a police department, you dedicate this community, you end up with much more creative and long term solutions. So my unit that I help oversee, we do that full time, so that means when an issue arises in the community, or it's our job to reach out to you all and to work with you all to find solutions, solutions that a police department may not have.
- And so I'm excited to be presenting today, because we're going to kind of look at a case study of a solution that was implemented in downtown Santa Barbara, and I'm sure you all will have some questions and have some of your own ideas, and you know, I am committed to taking all the feedback. This is a community wide issue. It's not a UCPD issue, so that means it's going to be solved by our community, and that is you all.
- So regarding the flyers that you all see again, my unit is all about community feedback, so we've already received some community feedback on those flyers, so we are in the process of making a few minor edits just to make them more clear to understand and easier to use. If you gave any issues with Dunn, feel free to email me at community@police.ucsb.edu, and we're very aware and very responsive to the feedback.
- Our chief talked to you last week or last senate meeting about making sure that everyone who had received a citation got a copy of this literature, and so that was ultimately assigned to a community outreach team. We made contact with every single person that had received a citation, and everyone I talked to said, Absolutely, we are going to sign up for the free class to get rid of the $40 fee. So I know that was a concern for some students, because some tickets were in before this information was finalized, but we tracked them all down, and everyone has been offered that course. So I just wanted to give you an update on that.
- You know, when it comes to the issue of lists and pedestrians, it's campus, there's been a lot of talk of voluntary compliance through education, and that really is the ideal setup, right? We give you all the information. The university gives you the information. People understand the problem and they comply on their own. It may come as a shock to you that that does not always work. It does not always eliminate the problem or reduce the problem to a degree that we can say the problem is solved.
- So another big thing that my team focuses on is called SEF Ted. It's called Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design. That's an internationally recognized program. The very short kind of elevator pitch for that is, it's the belief that you can design away crime, right? And so you can actually change the environment so it encourages people to obey the law again, without a citation, without an arrest.

- And so, you know, my team does assessments of campus. We're working on one right now for this issue with the cyclist. Part of that assessment was to not recreate the wheel right. So we are not the first entity in the world to deal with pedestrians and bicyclists interacting. So we don't necessarily need to create a solution from scratch. And so I like to run on my days off, and I live in downtown Santa Barbara, and I saw these Pedlets down there, and we did some snooping, talking to some people that work down there. Hey, what is this? Why is this here? You know, what's the history of it? And it turns out they're dealing with the exact same problem we are. So the purpose of this presentation is just to present our findings on this. It's not necessarily to say this is something we're running with or anything like that. So if you don't. If you hate them, don't, I don't want to cause any panic. This literally started because I was on a run. I saw him, so I contacted our chief. Our chief said, hey, you need to write that up, because we need to be open to any and all solutions and again. So we're more than happy to critique it. Take anything that's useful and throw away anything that's not useful.
- So what is a pedlet? A pedlet is a modular, prefabricated, raised platform designed for pedestrians, Pedlets provide a protected walking zone separating people from other activities on the street, for example, bicycles. So just to give you some context on what this is during covid, the city of Santa Barbara decided to shut down the 500 block of State Street to vehicle traffic. The reason they did that was because they wanted to give the restaurants an opportunity to expand their outdoor seating. So they moved the outdoor seating onto the sidewalks, so they completely blocked the sidewalks, and then they left the road, which used to be for vehicles. They left the road for bicyclists and pedestrians. Everyone cheered. Everyone said, Ooh, who else is great. And then, as you might imagine, what happens, as we know when you make a slice of and pedestrians, right?
- And so we're getting hit. People were complaining. It's literally the exact same problem we're dealing with here. So one of the solutions that they sought was these Pedlets. So what these Pedlets do is they extend and downtown Santa Barbara they start at the curb line, where the sidewalk was, and they extend out into the street, which is a raised pedestrian platform, right?
- So what it does is it gives people who are on foot or on wheelchairs, on crutches, the opportunity to have this protected space where they can walk, and then the rest of the street is where the bicyclists can ride.
- So it gives you the opportunity, if you're like, Hey, I just want to be on the part with people, with pedestrians. I don't want to be in the roadway with cyclists. It gives you the option to walk on this Pedlet. We went out there officially, the community outreach team to make this report, and we saw some people were walking in the street. Some people were walking, remaining on the street, which was good, because we were worried about that, like, what happens?

- Am I supposed to start riding on this pedlett? But most people, almost all the bicyclists, remained in the street. I'd say a good majority of the pedestrians used the Pedlets, but some of them did remain in the street, and it reminded me of something that someone told me on this project.
- You know, we're not necessarily going to be able to eliminate this issue as far as bicyclists and pedestrians intermingling, but we certainly can reduce the harm associated with it. So just seeing it firsthand, I was like, Okay, again, there still are some pedestrians interacting with the bicyclists, but it did reduce that right, and gave people the option if they're not comfortable walking with the bicyclist, that gave them a protected zone. Pedlets are very durable. They're water resistant, and they're modular to fit unbalanced grounds and curvy sidewalks. So the modular piece is important, because, as we've already discussed last week with the barricades implementation, and then what happens? It's like, oh, we weren't expecting this to happen or that to happen, or, you know, on these certain days it doesn't work. On these other days it does work. So having a modular solution is very important, because you can adapt and overcome when the real life implementation comes up. And so modular, meaning we could change them, we can adjust them. It really is up to us to determine what those look like, the ones on State Street and the photos you've seen so far in this presentation, they do not have any like handrails, and they do not have 360 ADA access ramps to approach it. That was a decision that was made by the city of Santa Barbara. But again, it's modular, so we could have that. So we'll have some photos at the end of this presentation. We can see them. What it would look like with actual handrails. The handrails would be important again, to prevent bicyclists from riding up onto the Pedlet, and then obviously, having either 360 or all of the areas where you could enter, having that wheelchair ramp would be important to make it accessible, ADA compliant. And then, I mean, this is on their arsenal. You could also change the colors of them, even in the environment, if you're concerned about them being ugly, go to the logistics slide. This is where you know I want to stress this was us looking at the way other people solve the problem, not necessarily us saying we're going to use this. So they did the 500 block of State Street, where they implemented these Pedlets. It's only one block. The cost was approximately $528,000 to do that. And that was they only did the ADA access at the entrance and exit. So they didn't have the 360 ramps, and they did not opt for any railing. And so again, that is the number that gave us for how much they invested in that. And as it was already mentioned, we know that money is tight, but I'll get at the end, I'll kind of talk about the importance of finding a solution to this issue. So there's that go to the next slide, please. So Pedlets pros and cons. The pros was functionality. It successfully separated bike and pedestrian traffic, again, without any level of enforcement, or without any physical presence by anyone at all. Right, it was just used again. They redesigned the environment to encourage compliance. We can get the campus colors. They're modular. We talked about that. It's able to be adjusted if you know our plans don't match the reality of the implementation, the expense we talked about in the negative, but the positive would be, you know, it is potentially cheaper than doing an entire bike lane. I'm not saying we don't want a bike lane. I know a bike lane, but if it came down to it, let's say, for some reason, we couldn't get a bike lane. Again, this would be an option, okay. Well, this would be technically cheaper than getting a bike lane. This last point, I have to be very careful about the way I explain it. But basically what the Pedlet does is it creates a Defacto bike lane. So what that means is, by marking clearly the area you want your pedestrians to walk, it leaves this just open space right next to it, because it is illegal to ride a bike, we couldn't place to walk now or cyclists, right? Like that's just something you can't say, because there's a process creating that as a pipeline. It is an opportunity to protect themselves and against people who, in this case, will be breaking the law by riding the bike on the sidewalk. So when I take it back to the bike lane, I'm not saying, if we get a Pedlet, you know, any space left over for the bikes? It's not what we're saying. Are saying it would give pedestrians an opportunity to protect themselves. The cons we already talked about this, they only did one block, and it was $528,000 and again, that was they did not purchase the handrails and not purchase the necessary side ramps. And

Luken

- Genuine effort from UCPD is appreciated
- Bike path I believe is ultimate solution
- In regards to cost, a lot of people mentioned concerns with cost effectiveness
- Where did you anticipate this funding coming from?
- Would it be better served going towards the bike path?

Bournes

- Someone suggested, if this funding even exists, why not put it towards bike path?
- Coming to you at beginning phases of this
- Reason were coming at it this way is because were trying to do this right way
- Bringing it to you
- If it’s not a viable solution, don't need to move onto further funding
- Maybe we’ll move onto different pitches
- Not appropriate

Ly

- I've also experienced pedlets, very useful
- Feel if its a temporary solution, price may not be worth it
- Maybe see how much more pedlets would cost than barriers
- I was wondering, how long would you expect these pedlets to be there then?

Bournes

- As far as barricades and cost effectiveness, the university already owns them
- They’re the yellow barricades that create the lines
- Would cost us zero dollars
- People thought we’d purchase, but we already own them
- TPS could drop them off tomorrow

- If you've experienced those, they're light enough to be moved in case of emergency
- Fire marshall refused to sign off until they're able to be pushed
- Perfect weight, wont tumble away but can be pushed

Ly
- Question of timeline
- When would they be up until?

Bournes
- Up until construction starts
- Listened to senate meeting from last time
- Discrepancies on bike path starting time
- Before we invest, want to get a clear answer on 1 year, 2 years, before construction starts
- If they say it'll start winter break, obviously we won't spend for a period that short

Ono
- Think it's important to put a lot of ideas out there
- Something I care about a lot
- Think it's cool to see
- Think it'll cost more than state street, with ADA
- That state street path is for 70, this would be for 600
- Maybe there's a way we could put a railing
- Think there's more cost effective ways to do this, but we'll see

Sussman
- Think it's our duty to talk about what's going on on campus
- CPTED
- There's been increase in crimes with sexual assault and racial discrimination cases
- Has there been any effort to reduce those?

Bournes
- Was looking at email sent out to all students right before this
- If you're feeling the weight of that, we're feeling it as well
- Don't want to speak on behalf of university, but I'll speak for my outreach team
- Lighting and safety walk
- Annual event we put on, what areas on campus need to be addressed
- I'll give police chief credit, he immediately rerouted lagoon
- Going to send an email out to students about this event
- Going to be sent out as soon as I finish route for lagoon
- Lighting safety walk, looking at lights that are out, safety hazards, tripping area
- We could use some help in what type of violations or safety hazards, if you have suggestions, email us

- Want to make sure we're logging community's take on this
- Maybe police department comes up first
- Safety walk on November 5th
- Would love to see rep from senate there
- Start at library, probably getting into a van and driving to lagoon
- Taking notes on what can we do
- It is a unique area, ecosystem and everything
- Biased towards safety
- Going to say let's do safety first
- Important for us to document what needs change out there

Sussman
- Can you send out that route to someone here or Enri to be posted student-wide?

Bournes
- Believe it'll be finished by tomorrow
- If not, I'll come in on friday

Pascher
- Maybe you can rush this onto that
- Area by San Joaquin where students are forced to park at that's completely dark and unsafe
- Avoided leaving my apartment because it's so dark and unsafe
- Last year, someone was shot on that bike path
- So if you could add that area between Santa Ynez and San Joaquin
- There are sidewalks on the side opposite San Joaquin, another area completely unlit
- Fallen on my bike because of cracks and bumps on sidewalk

Bournes
- Going to be frank
- Adding routes requires a lot of personnel, time, energy
- What we're going to do is ask if people want to add more areas in our email, so email us
- We give it to people on campus that make these changes
- Not going to trim these bushes or change these lightbulbs
- If you're area of concern isn't pictured on route, strongly encourage you to email us
- Would love to see this event expand
- So we can cover more areas
- We'll have that mechanism for feedback
- Again, it's not any less than or anything like that
- It's putting it in the same report that goes to the UCSB entities that make these changes

B-3) GSA Representative-

Laura Snell and Patrick Tugwell (7:40PM)
Laura Snell
- External co President of the Graduate Student Association

Patrick Tugwell
- VP of campus affairs

Laura Snell
- Wanted to introduce ourselves, via both of our orgs governing document
- We have reciprocal seats
- Year two of a two year process of restructuring
- Reengage with all points of campus
- Hoping to reestablish that relationship
- That's kind of my spiel, very brief
- We as an assembly only meet once a month
- We only do our full partisan trade procedure once a month
- That is the point in which we are allowed to take larger financial decisions, our annual budget approval as a body
- If there's ever anything we want to collab on, it's important for us to communicate before our monthly assembly meetings

Lala
- Would like to thank you guys on being key negotiators for the library
- Brief rundown of orgs structure

Snell
- We have $333,000 operating budget
- Significant increase from last year $180,000
- Created lock in fee for grad clubs this year
- Same kind of funding that gets distributed through SEAL and student fees for undergraduates, now an attempt for a parallel program for grad students
- We also we run multiple grants that benefit graduate students directly, that are kind of predetermined by our lock in visas, how we can spend that money
- One is the emergency grant, which is for graduate students who are in fiscally Dire Straits to apply to. We're always in fiscally dire straits, so that always gets used in full.
- Doubled that grant this year, also doubled that travel grant for conferences and research presenting before you get PhD
- Have our own dedicated conference grant pool
- Also run a grad specific childcare grant
- Well over a third of our budget that's locked in
- Rest is operational
- Mostly paid for us to try and get grad students to go

- Do throw social events
- Three large quarterly events
- Smaller ongoing halloween party events
- Structurally, we have an odd structure
- Two co presidents, external which is me, and internal Gustavo Sampaio
- I handle everything external, talk to every university admin and reached out to Enri
- Gustavo makes sure our senate equivalent functions
- Staffing graduate student lounge
- Kind of only non library space for grad students to socialize and work
- If you want some, we can probably sneak in, bagels on wednesdays
- 5 vice presidents
- VP of campus affairs, Patrick, liaison between this body and person who handles housing committee and healthcare
- Another VP of events, if you ever want to hold a joint party, Jing-su
- Vivi Gomez, director of women's center on campus, another VP
- VP of financial affairs, Taylor Martinez
- VP of external affairs, does equivalent for UCSA, UCGPC, lobbying trips for Sacramento
- Don't really have staff
- Did ask for a fee increase to hire staff last year
- Increased reps from last year
- Failed to have assembly meeting and meet quorum
- Now have 44 reps
- Maximum possibility on campus is 44 reps
- Hoping to build engagement

Pascher
- Working with Manakova and president on department of alumni affairs
- Could you direct me to someone who could help me with this?

Laura
- In the sense of a development team?

Pascher
- Maybe
- Trying to carve out a department that works with gard students and AS to be accounted for
- Actually think that the movement towards alumni and donorship is the only way for UCSB to survive the next few years

Than
- Wanted to introduce myself as liaison chair
- Would love to be venue, thanks for coming

Luken

- Having pumpkin patch on 30th, would love for grad students to come
- Would love to get in contact about that

Laura

- Email is laurasnell@ucsb.edu

Malhis

- A lot of RCOs I'm a part of have a lot of grad student members because they're interested in that stuff
- Do you know a lot about that, what are your thoughts?

Snell

- Had a lot of long convos with carlos navarro and the SEAL team
- Part of the move towards a graduate club system was a couple fold my friend and of the former co President interim Bedlam oak, really wanted grad clubs. So that was step one.
- Grad students were disinclined to create a club or be a part of the leadership structure
- A lot of us work 3 jobs
- Certain kinds of leadership skills and safety requirements that they don't make grad students adhere to in any context
- Part of bedlam's desire was to create a system where grads could create clubs
- There's SEAL  and RCO structure, there's no structure for them to get funding for that RCO

Malhis

- Lots of times, grad students only interact with other grads
- Not much outside interaction
- Think this is a very important instance
- What work have you done to unite grad students

Snell

- We've had Mosher Alumni house party
- Big welcome to grad school event
- Restraints we've hit, both funding and staffing
- Approx 2900 grad students on campus
- Don't actually have people power or finances to throw for all 2900
- What kind of events can you host to attract different demographics
- Did start this past year, a thing I hope to continue is a summer BBQ
- With the change in visa regulations, had a pool of students stuck in SB during summer
- Basically held a bunch of parties then moved 7500 to our emergency grant for those summer people

- Trying to have biweekly events, but the person in charge of that is on maternity leave
- Biggest bounding experience here for GSA was 2022 labor strike

Tugwell
- Another question, if we're gonna fund this, how is it going to impact the student body as a whole?

Snell
- Elings engineering block parties thrown, engineering students taking initiative
- Priorities
- University's budget is screwed, so grad students' are as well, advocating for freedom of speech, international student visas

A Bill To Update the Legal Code of Associated Students Program Board
Than - Wang

- The Associated Students Program Board wants to get rid of one position and change the name of another. I corresponded with the commissioner, Grace. She endorsed the bill and we overlooked it to make sure it was what she wanted. If there are any formatting errors let us know and that can be fixed.

Ono
- I work with these guys. Everything they need is here. Wrong bill sorry.

Malhis
- The bill needs to include its fiscal impact.

Sussman
- With that being said, are there any comments? If not, I'll make a recommendation to table to Liaison.

Luken
- There's no need for the chair to make a recommendation at any point. This is not directed at you, but we as a body, are capable of making decisions. If anyone has an idea at any point, make your comment. We don't need to be directed by the chair

Sussman
- Kinda my job to guide the meeting, sorry Senator.

Malhis
- Point of information. How does the chair direct the meeting if the meeting isn't supposed to have any direction?

Sussman
- We are not having this conversation. With that being said, are there any motions?

Pascher
- Please, this might be due to my lack of photographic memory of legal code, where does it say that bills need fiscal impact? I would love to be informed because I think we were just updating legal code. I would love to know the fiscal impact as well though. Is that standard practice that we should be continuing forward for bills?

Malhis
- I'm not sure on this but I believe that our Internal Vice President has directed that every single bill that has fiscal impact needs to be emphasized. If it's not in legal code, then it should be.

Chairship yielded back at 9:34PM

Lala
- The most relevant section of legal code is, If the bill or resolution includes a fiscal impact, without the designated accounts of fiscal impact, it is considered null until an appropriate account is established by the Liaison Committee or a Senate action. This seems to imply there should be fiscal impacts in the bill but Iden just left.

Luken
- Is there fiscal impact to this bill? Can one of the authors address that?

Than
- It would just be less honoraria because it's removing two positions, and one is being added. I would assume less money being allocated for whatever funding is given to them.

Lala
- Does that seem something that could be done in committee because it's a simple edit?

A Bill to Update Article VI, Section 13. Outreach Committee
Luken - Harter

Luken
- Obviously we still need to follow the order of standing rules and it still needs to be referred to a committee. This bill has been brought up in my committee, we had a discussion about it.
- It's pretty simple, similar to what advocacy and finance have done, update their legal code to make sure it's running effectively. We'd like to do the same thing for our committee. It's simple changes, nothing crazy. The main thing is get rid of the policy analysis positions. They don't fit the mission of outreach to students at all so we got rid of those and positioned them under members at large. We also more broadly defined what members at large do so they can fulfill outreach committee's duties.

Harter
- I don't have anything to add.

Pascher
- I think we should just refer this with the same instructions. Moving forward, there are other bills that should come out of committee with fiscal impact. There is no fiscal impact, great, beautiful

- You can universalize that to say that each committee should look for fiscal impact and include it if there is.

Pascher
- I think my words were perfectly fine, thank you.

Malhis
- There is no fiscal impact on the bill. It's getting rid of 2 positions, and adding 2 positions. I think the bill looks amazing. From my understanding the role of policy analyst is important. I see your reasoning for removing and creating members at large. This allows officers to take on larger roles, but it looks like you have simplified the duty section for policy members at large for clarity. I just wanted to emphasize that simplifying language should not mean that those roles are forgotten. I think it's important that outreach members stay informed of what is going on locally, in the state and nationally. I also had a couple formatting questions. There are some extra spaces, are those intentional, or formatting errors?

Luken

- Yes, in regards to your first point about the policy analysts, very well taken. If you would look under duties and responsibilities of outreach members at large, it says they will be informed on the proceedings that include university level and state and federal level. We did our due diligence in regards to that. In regards to the spacing, I think that's literally the format block paragraph thing. That can be fixed in committee. I don't know how pertinent that is for legal code, but I'm happy to fix it.

Malhis

- I did look over that but it is shorter than the very expansive and the indepth details of policy analysis. I'm just saying it's being simplified a little bit, but I'm glad you guys still have that in legal code. Thanks for your response

Sussman

- There's a group of legislative officers in the EVPSA office that have the same duties. I was in that division last year. Having those roles in the outreach committee is somewhat repetitive. I think that by simplifying it to that nature, and simply having members at large be social media or policy analysts, that is the gist of the bill. It goes with the mission of the senate which is to remove overlap and repetitive duties in the legal code.

A Bill to Amend Pardall Center Legal Code

Ly-Than

- Just want to give credit to all the Parallel Centers Governance board, chairs, vice chairs, and board. They worked hard on this bill over summer. They looked thoroughly at all the legal code to see what would work best for them, so I want to give them all the credit. The changes are fairly simple. They changed the members at large position to explicitly list out external and internal, added their mission statement, and overall gave themselves more agency to do with the space itself what they would like to do, for example decorations. They didn't have much power beforehand. Another big change I'd like to add is that they removed the Associated Students in Isla Vista which is a defunct board, but that is also a change in a bill to clean up legal code.

Than

- I have nothing else to say. Senator Ly took the initiative on this so want to recognize that work as well. And yes the Pardall cCenter worked very hard on this. I understand if we want further discussion because there are overarching changes

Sussman
- Just want to thank the authors for being in constant communication with senate leadership throughout the process. This bill looks great.

Ono
- This bill is really important for the Pardall Center to make sure they have the ability to control the space as they normally would, especially regarding the use of computers. That is important to be regulated. We've had some problems with that in the past, but it's important they are able to kick people off if they have to. This will make working there significantly easier for the staff involved, and they have put in a lot of work on this

Motion to
Sussman
Motion rescinded

Ly
- This about the Pardall Center legal code, and standing policy 32 which is about the Parallel center, they added something called operational directives which they defined in the bill. It's a code of conduct policy for people who use the Pardall Center. While open to everyone in Isla Vista, it's stating that it is mainly for students since our lock in fees mainly fund the Parallel center. They also changed that the lock in fee would be for Pardall Center instead of Associated Students Isla Vista, and then also said that these can be appealed and amended by the student senate at any time.

Harter-

Lala

- Before doing this, you would have to motion it to the agenda. Would it be okay to do that next week because we have to add to the agenda?

Harter

- Point of information, if i rescind my motion, and he motions it on the standing rules on the agenda, then we can do this.

Lala

- I guess.

Motion rescinded

Luken

- Is it out of order?

Lala

- Yes

Motion to add the 76th Senate Standing rules to new business.
Harter- Luken

Pascher

- Seeing as I  just heard what the language is going to be amended to this.  I don't think it's appropriate to do this. I have to hold all things to the same standard, and I think this is a waste of time and quite honestly a little bit disrespectful. The language you guys are proposing is something that should probably be supported with evidence, citations, and footnotes.  While we can vote on it as a body, I think that this should be a discussion with the larger senate group.

Luken

- Point of order. We are just adding this to the agenda, nothing else

Lala

- This is in order

Jiang

- I concur with Senator Pascher. I would like a justification of why you put this on the floor, when you could have emailed it two days ago to put it on the agenda.

Malhis

- I also concur. I understand the reasoning behind bringing this up. Recently, we've had a lot of new policy changes for the senate enforcing strict rules, whenI feel like we can just have an agreement about senators that are less participants and that can be brought up to the Director of Accountability rather than actually having it in policy and making it so strict.

Sussman

- I agree with the sentiments of Senators Malhis and Pascher. I think there can be more leniency in the language and it wouldn't hurt to make it more robust.

Harter

- I know everyone wants to get out of here but this is when we all will be gathered to address something like our standing rules. When am I going to get everyone in the same room again. I can email and text people but this is a time when we are already here. I won't be able to get everyone in another room again until next Wednesday. The underlying logic is if you need to have your camera off during a senate meeting, then maybe you should get a proxy. Maybe you shouldn't be at the senate meeting then period. It's strict for a reason, because we are holding ourselves to a standard of presence. I think the strictness of the policy is very much in order, and if you don't agree with it, then send a proxy. We are all here to discuss this and I don't know when I can gather everyone in a room and get consensus again.

Luken

- I really loved that you guys are trying to be prudent about getting things on the agenda ahead of time. It's something we should all strive to do but there's nothing wrong with people motioning on anything they want. That is the point of the deliberative body. If you are going to disagree with it, then disagree with the content of it, not with the time it was put on the agenda.We have that ability because there are things that come up sometimes after the agenda deadline and for various other reasons. You can motion something on for a political reason and that is totally okay. That is why we have a deliberative body to discuss. If you have an objection to what the motion is about, speak because that is the purpose, objections about the agenda and when people send their stuff are getting a little frustrating.

Lala

- That is bordering on speculating others intentions so I would stay away from that kind of language.

Pascher

- Initially I did give reasoning beyond the nature of the timing of this being put on the agenda. I simply agree that when something is motioned on the agenda, it should be considered with its urgency and be waived so that's why I ask for the reason. However, I do disagree with the content so I also touched on that in my first remark. I am a big fan of citing where you are getting this from, and getting precedent, looking at what courts and senate do. Does that happen in the California Assembly? I would love to know. Additionally, sending a proxy isn't the greatest. I have in recent senate meetings considered sending a proxy. I can't give my proxy a brief of things on the agenda if I'm not there. Sending a proxy isn't a solution but it's an alternative to being on zoom. I agree that senators on zoom should be interactive in the meeting, but I don't think that intention and motive is the correct reasoning behind it. I don't think we should motion this on the agenda, and I would like to let the other senators know, I am opposing this.

Lala

- There's a first and second, without a call to question the motion dies. If it's called to question, we can handvote, or if there's strong enough opposition then it goes back to me.

Pascher

- Point of order. If there is no call to question, then the motion dies.

Lala

- That is precisely what I said

Jiang

- The first principle is that just because you can do something, doesn't mean it's always appropriate to do something. We are not here to decide, we are here to discuss. For the point that Senator Harter proposed about how it's hard to gather outside of meetings, you haven't even tried to get us together.

Luken

- Just for reference, you can amend the motion as well. You can object to it or vote against it, but you can amend it if you like the principle. I don't fully understand the idea of citing footnotes. This is changing standing policy. To speak tot that idea, US congress mandates in person attendance. You can't be on zoom or anything.

Second Rescinded- Luken

Lala

- Proud of you guys for de-escalting that.

Luken

- Is the motion still on the floor? Do you have to restate the motion to see if there's a second?

Lala

- The notion dies

Luken

- The motion dies if there's not second, but the motion is still on the floor

Motion dies

1. Maya Clark
2. Leo Brown (7:57PM)

Luken

- He''ll be presenting about the HIP proposal I sent you all, in your emails

Brown

- 4th year econ and environmental studies major, he/him
- Last time we talked, I introduced a project that would address campus emissions, tackle hygiene and insecurity, and also provide paid student leadership opportunities
- Transforming laundry rooms into sustainable housing opportunities
- Pilot phrase was to put 2-3 dispensers in dorms
- Following pilot, delivered free, zero waste laundry access to campus
- Traditional detergents are expensive and environmentally harmful, leads to overuse
- Poor product designs lead to clogged pipes, machine breakdown, waste
- Our solution in partnership with gen conscious, purchased long duty zero waste laundry sheet dispensers, mainly adopting this program as UCSB's first regenerative economic model
- Develops more work opportunities for low income first gen students
- 30-40% of revenue go towards these first generation low income students, fellows regenerating capital towards economic justice for underrepresented students, While preparing the movement for Environmental Hygiene justice and monitoring it across the planet.
- Sets standard for what can be achieved on student housing level
- Simultaneously providing opportunities for the underrepresented by joining over 20 universities already leading the movement, UCSB has the opportunity to be a West Coast leader in hygiene, equity, the climate positive campus.

Hepburn

- Why do you think it's better that it should be free and paid for by the government or by the student government, and then given free for students, as opposed to just the students paying a cheap rate or at cost?

Brown
- If it's in the laundry rooms through student surveys, something that students have to pay for, it's unlikely they will pay for it
- Hasn't shown results, barrier for students who can't pay for it
- Hassle of having to pay for it
- So just going in and like how we just have the initiative to make the laundry machines free themselves for students
- Trying to hurdle that barrier once again

Than
- The coalition of students working on this, one is EAB
- What amount of budget or money did they say they'd be willing to give?

Brown
- Still in discussion
- Hoping that funding can be from AS HIP budget
- Hoping to gain support from more BCUs to cover cost of detergent
- Right now, had discussions at Environmental Affairs

Pascher
- Looking over HIP proposal
- Is there a case study? What are the statistics that show I can't just go there and take all the detergent dispensers?
- Can't imagine you'd have to tap your card

Brown
- Actually one of the key differences, user authentication and survey possibilities
- Could have students put in their perm number, and they'd be able to take a certain amount of sheets which is high tech version
- No user authentication for current low tech option

Malhis
- For the dispensers, how many sheets fit in a dispenser
- Is there a system for when the machines run out

Brown
- One of the services of the managers is that they'd act as main communication
- They'd contact CEO or founder of generation conscious to put in another order or shipment soon

This motion passed at 8:06PM.

Luken
- Want to apologize, sent this out late past monday
- My fault
- Can you clarify or speak on discussions we've had with campus housing
- About how costs may be passed on to student government in the future

Brown
- I could start with a little backstory with one of the partnerships generation consciousness has with the University of Pittsburgh
- They got funding, institutionalized by the Board of Regents to fund this program at the University of Pittsburgh
- So it's a possibility that we can do that at UCSB, which would essentially allocate a larger budget for programs like this at UCSB, and go into the housing fee for students
- They'd pay for it through tuition, then it's a free service
- Kind of in the works now
- Wanted to see feedback from pilot phase
- See if it's worthy of expansion

Ly
- I know one of the reasons for this project is costs
- Looking through proposal, didn't see where cost is

Brown
- There should've been a hyperlink there

Ly
- Dont see it, would be helpful

Harter
- Spoken about concern of accessibility for non freshmen
- People that aren't in dorms, frankly
- Is there a plan to ensure access of these gen co sheets to student body

Brown
- We started food pantry program, discussions of it at another university
- Making it accessible to off campus students as well
- Would have it at places like SRB, UCEN lobby, food pantry
- Could be something simpler than dispenser, could order excess stock of sheets
- To make it accessible, think that's definitely a viable solution

Ly
- Point of order, you can't table high impact projects to committees

Hepburn
- What makes the sheets 25 cents per sheet, on amazon it's cheaper?

Brown
- Just cuz it's in pilot program now, once it expands it'll be 10 cents per sheet
- 10 cents per sheet post pilot, operations discount

Pascher
- If this is tabled by a committee, would you be able to attend that meeting and accept revisions

Brown
- Yes

Motion to approve grant AS Senate, account 468, $7,800 under the category of food for Senate Unallocated

Malhis
- This motion needs to include the correct fiscal motion language. All fiscal motions must specify the account the money is coming from and the account it's going to.

In this case, since we're transferring money into the Senate account from Senate Unallocated, which is the suggested funding source account for maintaining balanced budgets, we should use Senate Undesignated before Unallocated/ We could also consider changing this to make the funding a yearly allocation instead of a quarterly one. Since it's an AS account, it doesn't need to be renewed each quarter. If you want to increase the amount, that would fall under the IVP's responsibilities.

Lala

- It seems like it would be clearer to describe this as an expenditure, since we're not granting funds to that account, it's coming from that fund.

Malhis

- That would fall under Financial Operations.

Lala

- It's usually done on a quarterly basis because we're not always sure of what the funding needs will be.

Malhis
That's possible, though it's more typical for RCOs. It's ultimately your budget.

Luken

- What happened to the other motions?

Lala

- That's the next item on the agenda.

Lala
- Unallocated is for other projects and fees

Malhis
- You can exhaust senate unallocated and then go to senate undesignated

Motion to approve $6,149 for the UCEN/Flying A Room reservations for Senate meetings for the 25/26 academic year

Malhis

- Technically, the entities that receive UCEN rooms for free are the senate, program board, finance committee, and a few others. It turns out this was just a miscommunication with our staff. Both the finance committee and program board already get the rooms for free, so there's no need for a motion about that. That's why that motion was removed from the agenda.
- The attorney general also came in to request additional funds for honoraria, so we now have a motion for that instead.

Lala

- Michael Cea told me that this arrangement exists because AS contributes financially to the UCEN's maintenance fund. That makes a lot of sense
- It's not a motion unless someone officially motions it onto the floor. It's on the agenda, so we all have access to it.

Luken

- Are we talking about this specific room right now? Would this include the conversations Holly has been having with us? Does this involve funding for that?

Lala

- This doesn't really matter in this context.
- The main point is that the motion, as written, is somewhat improper.

Luken
- Advocacy committee isn't meeting tomorrow
- I just want to make the body aware that the HIP proposal won't be discussed until week 6

Lala
- The advocacy can be convened, just not in meeting time
- Can be convened by chair and vice chair and they can meet before then if its a hyper pressing matter

Malhis
- They can also do an email vote
- I think it's important that all of our standing committees meet to have quorum every single week
- There is so much more these standing committees have to do this year compared to last year, it puts all of our legislation on a break. Particularly the finance committee I feel like we have been doing a good job this year.
- I anticipate other committees still have public formula and senators attending meetings
- It is Disheartening to see a committee did not reach quorum or need to do an emergency cancellation

Lala
- We are action, not discussion items yet

Motion to amend the agenda and add the item  to grant the Office of the Attorney General, account number 406, an additional $3600 for Honoraria from Senate Unallocated
Sussman- Ono
Second Rescinded

Lala
- Is everyone clear that the senate unallocated should be for administrative things, things of this nature.
- I spoke to financial operations on this, and i think senator malhis has as well
- You can have things that don't fit as well, but that is replenished by AS undesignated
- Are we all clear on that?

Luken
- I have no issues with this as well. We don't always need to amend the agenda
- This could have just been a motion to grant the attorney general from senate unallocated
- We have to vote on that and then there is a motion on that

Motion to grant the Office of the Attorney General, account number 406, an additional $3600 for Honoraria from Senate Unallocated
Sussman-Malhis
Call to question- Pascher
Yes- 12
No-0
Abstain- 4
This motion has passed

Malhis
- For some clarification, in the motion language, we don't need account number for this motion
- This was needed for AS Senate one because language of senate was in both where the account number needs to be specified
- In fiscal motions you don't necessarily need to add the account number

Lala
- Are we all clear why the Attorney general is requesting this
- This relates to parentheses questions sent out by chief compliance office r
- This means that they can appoint holders
- Just bringing this information for what he made publicly available

Ly
- Is it at the discretion of the IVP and senate leadership to just remove things
- Since it was on the agenda, and it disappeared and we put it back on

Sussman

- I think it would have been proper to motion to strike the item
- That was the proper procedural route but I wasn't here for that

Malhis
- If were allowed to motion action items without amending the agenda
- I believe we can take the action items out of the agenda, without motioning

a. Judicial Council Chair Josie Penix – AS Judicial Council Bench Book

Phenic
- I'm here to share a bit of what I've been working on over the summer and fall. During this time, I have handled a lot of cases. These cases drew attention and placed a spotlight on our processes. While our work as the Judicial Council is guided by standards, those standards have never been concurrently and succinctly outlined beyond what is enumerated by the legal code. As a result, they have not been readable or understandable for students. When I became Chair in June, I made it my top priority to change that. I've created what I'm calling the Judicial Council Bench Book, an accessible guide to everything related to Judicial Council hearings. It includes clear summaries of every stage of a hearing, one page overviews, standardized rules and breakdowns of how to make and respond to objections. The purpose is simple but important: to ensure that every member of the association, no matter their level of experience, can understand how to bring a case and how to participate in the process with confidence.
- This resource is not just about making our procedures easier to follow. It's also about strengthening due process and making sure no one walks into a Judicial Council hearing feeling unprepared or at a disadvantage due to lacking resources.
- I'm excited to share the final version and to continue refining it with feedback. The Bench Book can be easily accessed through the Judicial Council website, and physical copies will be available in the JC and AG offices .Additionally, one-page overviews of procedural components are set to be published on the AS Canvas page for the convenience of the association. A clear outline of the expectations and process for obtaining a Judicial Council advisory opinion is also available on the website.

- A request for an advisory opinion shall be submitted in writing. The request should include specific questions for the Council, as well as a clear explanation and any relevant attachments. It should also reference the exact section of the legal code that is in dispute.
- Please note that a motion to request an advisory opinion requires a three-fourths ¾ majority vote to pass.
- The Attorney General is the Chief Legal Counsel of the Senate and should be the first point of contact for legal matters.
- I'm happy to answer any questions.

Luken
- Would you like the benchbook to be referenced
- Would you like any additional legal code to solidify the bench book
- Or would u want to maintain access externally

Penix
- Right now keep it external so we have the freedom to make adjustments
- After the hearings last quarter it became clear that we needed to establish some rules. We also will ideally have hearings with reference to the book to make sure everything works out. Depending how that goes either change leg to see what works best or solidify it

- Thank you for doing that. I remember the hearings, those were fun.
- I'm behind on my readings, quite a bit to do with school/senate as well
- If i do read through this and get to it are you willing to hear questions and concerns

Penix
- Yes you can make a copy and make comments all over it
- If u want to meet we can
- I'm confident in my knowledge around the fake trial process
- If thats something you want to talk about I'm down for it
- I can go into a lot more detail

Harter
- How do you access the benchbook?

Penix
- Its posted on our website and there will be physical copies in the as office building

Harter
- I don't see it on the website

Penix
- Go to the process tab

Motion to amend the agenda and add the HIP GenCo proposal
Luken- Harter
Called to question- Sussman
This motion passed at 9:24PM

Pascher:
- Can the authors speak as to why this is so late on the agenda

Luken
- It was my mistake to not send it to senate leadership
- I mentioned this in an email
- I want this tabled to a committee and im not trying to push this through

Luken
- Not much more to add than what Leo said earlier. Happy to answer questions and address the particulars
- We met with Leo to discuss how we saw this moving forward
- We've touched on everything to funding, feasibility, and meetings with campus housing
- We think we've kept the association's best interest in mind
- Want to hear from you guys to solidify this has associations best interest in mind
- Anything we could have missed despite doing our due diligence is like that to be brought up as well
- I don't expect anyone to have read this all the way which is why I want it tabled to a committee

Harter
- Were not trying to get it passed tonight
- We just want it to be accessible to everyone including student body
- Figured getting it on the agenda tonight would be the best way

Ly
- But it's insinuated there is funding in these proposals Is the funding allocated automatically, or do they have to go about getting the fund

Lala
- Its 75,000 per year, it's a separate fund

Harter
- I think IVP Lala address your immediate question and there is some untangling I wanted to get to real quick
- The HIP fund would be used to fund the initial phase and then Senator luken, Leo, and I are all working actively to enter long term agreements with admin and BCUs

Malhis
- I genuinely really like this proposal
- For the same reasons as senator Pascher there is no reason to have this on the floor if you are still having conversations about this
- I feel like it's better idea to have a resolution on the floor

- Once it's tabled to a committee, they already have so much to fix, it seems impossible to do because they have to make amendments on the floor
- I feel like having a resolution come first and then put it on the project tracker rather than having senators work on this huge project
- It's also a late request and there is no indication on the agenda that it is a late add

Lala
- It is already on the floor. You don't have to market things that are late in legal code
- I have never seen a resolution turn into a high impact project
- Just as points of information so we are all on the same page

Pascher
- My sentiment was to have some sort of minutes and record of why the authors reason for being late
- I don't share that sentiment, just want to clarify that

Lala
- Can I make a suggestion to which committee it would be best to

Luken
- Is it prudent of the chair to make decisions of that nature

Lala
- Yes

Sussman
- I think advocacy committee would be the best
- Not that I doubt the chairs, but I think it would be more prudent to have advocacy committee to do that

Malhis
- I think this should go to every committee because it affects every committee
- Outreach because it will be available to many students
- Finance because it is  large fiscal impact
- Liaison affects other BCUs
- This is a really huge project, it's an 18 page document, it needs to be clearly reviewed

Motion to refer the HIP GenCo proposal to advocacy committee
Harter- Susman
Called to question- Ono
This motion passed at 9:31PM

Lala
- Can the authors please follow up with the chairs of the committee
- I yield chairship to senator Sussman

Sussman

- You have the responsibility to go to the committees where ur things are being heard
- All senators are welcome as nonvoting members
- It's probably in the best interest that senators attend

I-4) President's Cabinet Report-
President Le Anh Metzger (8:12PM)

- Few quick announcements
- Academic senate, committees and councils
- Executive assistant has prepared for you all groups that are on senate
- You guys can volunteer to be on these comms
- Usually meet every other week, time is listed there
- Some senator positions have things written in their legal code
- There's a committee on international education
- Committee that the international would sit on
- Take a look through that document
- Spreadsheet has list of names
- Two of them that have been filled already
- If you're interested, you can email me
- I will make sure that you can be on it
- These committees are honestly really interesting
- Sat on committee of diversity and equity for two years
- Bunch of people 2-3 years older than you
- Want more student representation on them
- Highly encourage you to prioritize
- Want to highlight Pearman fellowship program
- In the summer you guys passed a bill to reinvigorate to kind of clarify the timelines and the requirements. So we've gotten a great turnout
- Gonna close Pearman fellows application on Friday
- We have 35 applicants last time I checked
- Currently have 18 entities/senators wanting to take on Pearman fellows
- Trying to get more
- If you or senate committee hasn't asked for a Pearman fellow, I recommend you do so
- Great way to be a mentee to someone
- Hoping it'll be a good program this year
- Believe there was a form sent out by JC with the application
- If you have trouble finding that you can message
- Ideally, don't want to reject any fellows
- And don't want to give groups more than what they requested

Pascher

- The 35 apps you got, just for one specific Pearman fellow position or

Metzger

- We have list of Pearman fellow applications and list of committee request forms, we'll be interviewing them to match them to their committees

Luken

- Will committees get a chance to select?

Metzger

- Our deputy heads of staff will interview and match them, if you want to be part of interview process, you can request to sit in on interviews
- Sent out email today about AS executive director job description form
- Submit feedback or changes you might want to see
- Will also be hosting open forum on zoom if anyone wants to speak
- Taking this feedback, bringing it to student affairs and updating it
- If you're interested in being a senate rep, fill out application form that was also linked
- Believe we'll be passing a resolution tonight to establish the search committee
- Nevermind, that's okay

Luken

- I'll get to that by next week
- Is there anything you have for the senate in regards to that that needs to be discussed publicly
- Would appreciate your support in getting word out about our pumpkin patch event

I-5) Executive Director's Report-

Sean Lieberman (8:21PM)

- Quick and sweet
- Re org, still working on various models
- Hoping to have 3-5 next few weeks
- Doing a town hall for AS and feedback
- Want to reassure that no group or BCU will be left behind on re org, want to give reassurance
- We have a web developer that started on monday
- LS will be reaching out to everyone very soon
- If you have a website that's been woefully neglected, he's already on it
- Got a very long list
- Only other thing I have on here, we have a fresh batch of mapache plushies on stock
- Limitless supply of storkie plushies
- If you'd like one and don't have one yet

- Had to raise price slightly

Than
- Thank you for keeping us updated on staff list
- There is a need for staff advisor for BCUs
- Want to make sure the chairs have been contacted with this
- Or is this signing with what the staff wants
- The ones who don't have a staff advisor with are being coordinated

Lieberman
- Yes, we've already checked off 2 groups in last 2-3 weeks that were undersupported
- Taken a minute to take down and see who has bandwidth
- Little by little been trying to make sure staff person is one who we've had a discussion with, making sure they have a relationship with the BCU
- Want to give an advisor to everyone, even if it's just for a month

I-6) Executive Office(r)s' Report -
I-7) Senator Representative Reports-
Senator Toledo's email (8:25PM)

- Spoke with several Letters & Science students this week. A common theme was readjusting to the pace of classes after break and ongoing discussions surrounding the Charlie Kirk memorial on campus.
- Continued outreach with my Liaison Committee organizations to build relationships and better understand how Senate can support them and, through them, the broader student body. Updates are in progress as we coordinate next steps.
- Collaborating with fellow Senators to prepare potential legislation, including Legal Code reform with Senator Eeman and other projects that reflect shared goals. These are still in the planning stage to ensure collective agreement before drafting.
- Supported Students for Justice in Palestine (SJP) activities this week and spoke with several other student organizations tabling at the Arbor to raise awareness about Senate meetings and student involvement.
- Flagging an issue for consideration: the need for a sufficiently spacious, designated campus prayer room to accommodate all faiths and provide a respectful environment for religious practice

I-8) Administrative Reports-
AG Taylor Iden (8:26PM)
- Some kind of robert' rules to talk about today

- Kind of what I've been seeing in meetings
- Been reading a lot of Robert's Rules lately
- First off, points of info
- Senators use points of info to get the floor and provide info under discussion topic
- Only use points of info for a procedural question, who made the vote, are we in the second, etc.
- Not so much about the legislation topic
- Known as point of clarification
- Also, point of orders, don't see a lot of these during debates, please exercise your rights
- This is the time to do it
- You all have rights as members
- If you think something's out of line, make a point of order
- Last meeting, heard something that peaked my interest, came to standing committees when referring legislation out
- I heard that when a bill is on standing committee it's being opened and worked on as a whole
- Went down robert's rules, found some discrepancies
- First off, Robert's Rules is not in any legal code besides the senates
- There's an expectation that all BCUs and entities follow it, so put it in your legal codes
- BWHC's quorum is the voting membership of senate's
- Standing committee procedures are differentiated under Robert's rules
- Anything 12 or under, motions aren't needed, can just take a vote
- When you're doing work on legislation, document every motion you're making
- Then it's not clear if bill's going to committee

Jones
- This is something we've talked a lot about in committees
- Whether it should be a motion to amend, a motion to add, etc.
- Or if it's like motion to open things, a different color, people are confused

Iden
- That's more for legal code striking things out and editing and changing
- For changing things, it should be a motion any time
- Everyone's voices should be heard
- Important for transparency purposes
- Anyone in public who's passionate about legislation, they can follow along and see that this change is made
- Unanimous consent
- You should be doing a motion, amending it
- When you want to send back out to senate, have it formatted in a formal way

Ly

- For standing committees, doesn't need to be a second
- Should BCUs still go by senate rules?

Iden
- The differentiating factor is the 12 person mark
- Lot of BCUs might be doing different things right now
- Right now, legal code only requires chairs and vice chairs to do Robert's Rules training
- There's nothing about it in any committee besides the bottom line rally Committee, which is non existent, and program work, those are the only three that legally are obligated to follow Robert's Rules right now
- We should probably be standardized
- Found out a BCU last year wasn't recording attendance or votes for large amounts of money
- Just motion passes, have no idea who voted on that, passing ton of money, and that's concerning
- Don't know who's making decision

Luke Lopez (Toledo proxy)
- You mentioned that no committees with less than 12, is that less than 12 senators,

Iden
- Just 12 voting numbers

Luke Lopez
- So if there's 12 or more voting members, you have to give a second?

Iden
- Yeah, standard rules you guys are using in the Senate

Jiang
- Would it be acceptable to you if we only pass a lock in, not for long

Iden
- Up to you guys ultimately
- I think things should be thorough, think Robert's Rules provide a great basis for that
- Don't know who's following what
- Others need work
- My preference
- You can create your own forms of parliamentary debate if you wanted

J) Committee Report
J-1) Standing Committee on Finance -
Jiang (8:36PM)

- Finance policy procedure needs to be reviewed every year
- Considering adding TAP for every single account for finance committee, where the funding comes out
- We have technically 8-9 accounts
- Reason why were adding TAP to RCO's because theres been a large amount requested for RCOs on campus, recent request was 46,000 dollars
- Cap on events is 10% for funding for the whole year, which isn't good considering the situation we're facing
- Invite senator's input on that
- Going to have a meeting with our officers, CFOs
- Want to have floor and let you know were open to feedback

Hepburn
- 10% to what total amount

Malhis
- You slightly missaid it
- Each entity has a cap of 10% of finance comm's distribution funds
- Which is 600,000
- So 60,000 would be the cap for one entity to get

Hepburn
- Did we run out of money last year?

Jiang
- No
- But we have witnessed disproportionate allocation of money to one RCO
- Do think there is a disproportionate distribution to one RCO over the others, we try to encourage more RCOs on campus to be getting funding from us

Malhis
- For clarification, yes, the finance committee did use all the disbursement last year, that's the goal every single year

Jiang
- We're not in deficit

Lala
- So they spent to zero, which is the goal of every entity, is that correct?

Hepburn
- Did you spend it down too early?

Malhis
- No we had money until the last finance meeting

- We do generally fund earlier
- Towards the end of year, we had entities like lacrosse and stuff request over 30k for travel
- Did not anticipate to be eligible for it
- Something we encourage for major sports teams
- Kind of plan their funding
- Issues with REC center, making them have to go to AS
- These last minute requests got them partially funded
- Was also a lesson like come in earlier during the quarter
- We did barely deny any requests that quarter, and went down to zero

J-2) Standing Committee on Outreach -
Senator Harter and Senator Luken (8:42PM)
Luken

- Anecdote
- Looking out at students sitting at arbor, waiting for shift with mobility transport
- Everyone doing their own thing, heads  down, heads up, working, eating
- Served as a stark reminder that there are so many different students on this campus with different interests, beliefs, goals
- Were in the privileged position to represent all of those students
- Everyone here who's apart of association
- We can get bogged down sometimes in terms of procedural issues
- Think it's completely necessary for us to keep in mind that we're repping all of these students
- Great moment for me to reflect on
- Rest of my report
- Gonna get a report next tuesday on possibility of implementing a text system, similar to UCSB alerts, thinking of implementing a text system for AS, to be sent out to students  who sign up for it
- Long term, students could then sign up for messages from particular entities
- If anyone has ideas or experience in that field, please message
- Pumpkin patch event, october 30th, week from tomorrow
- Aiming to have 400 pumpkins, along with carving sets, going to have a competition, most scary, most unique, most silly
- Want to encourage as many students as we can
- Will be held at lawn outside of annex and lawn outside storke tower
- Last thing to put on your radar, outreach has a 1k operating budget
- We're going to need substantially more this year
- Would like anyone's input, particularly those in finance
- Going to request about 10k for projects we'll be pursuing
- Concludes my report

Harter

- Don't have much to add
- Wanted to express support for all the things chair already touched on

- Wanted to quickly affirm that the 10k we're requesting is going towards purpose of our committee
- In order to achieve anything realistic, going to need financial support
- 1k for outreach is pretty meager
- Especially for any type of decent posters cost 100 or so
- We pass every single poster out in one session
- It's also pricey, though we do pass every single one out
- Funding is necessary
- Take advantage of the fact we're presenting it now
- If there are any questions about our advocacy, we can work them out
- Think the chair managed to illustrate it well

Lala
- You guys are saying 10k would be pieced together from different entities?

Luken
- Doesn't matter to us where it comes from, we just need 10k

Malhis
- What we've done with Raices and inactive entities, we suggest they come to finance committee with a budget for each individual event
- Rather than going to senate floor and requesting allocating budget for whole year as a whole

Luken
- Some of our efforts are more ad-hoc
- For events, we'll definitely come to you guys

Harter
- Interested in process of requesting in advance for something
- Under the impression that we'd have to front the money ourselves and go through that requisition process later

Malhis
- For clarification, don't necessarily need to go to finance committee for events, for example Raices
- Talk to our financial operations advisors
- They'll come up with a proper proposition and procedure for you guys

Lala
- Are you saying that the outreach committee comes and uses one of its funds which are the most limited?

Malhis

- When you go to finance comm, you're more than open to co sponsor and come with another org
- What we highly encourage for situations that require over 10k
- Not restricted to BCUs in general
- Finance comm has discretion over largest accounts
- By submitting a flux request, this is available for AS staff admin to look over it and see if requests make sense

Jiang
- When Harter's asking if you need the money before you get paid for it
- Technically, yes you can, if you provide the necessary documentation for it
- Depends on type of event
- Might not even need to do the whole process
- Can do internal transfer, that you don't need to pay a thing away
- We have internal collaboration that ensures you don't need to pay yourself

Iden
- You

J-3) Standing Committee on Liaison -

Than(8:54)
- Regarding dissolution of CoVo, which is a lock into which I know requires a special election, I'm going to have some open Senate discussion about that, maybe later. Just wanted to bring it out here, for everyone to know that the general opinion on lock in fees are really high
- People would rather prefer the lock in be lower than to kind of bring a non functioning, or currently an operating issue back to life.
- In general, don't know why Maya left
- Talked with CODE regarding cultural center
- On 3rd floor of UCEN
- To get that cultural center operating, they're also required by some UCEN policy to pay the elevator operating fee
- Think that's roughly $200,000
- Intense amount of money that they don't have budget for
- If they need to be paying that

J-4) Standing Committee on Advocacy -
Ono(8:55PM)
- Met with Pardall and other senators for pardall center needs
- Discussed basic needs vending machines, more of an internal issues
- Working on Pardall tunnel revamp
- We have designated people were reaching out too
- Contract campaign, three bidders, messy
- Next is Erica's business, advocacy is working with food bank

- Anyone is invited to help if they want

L) Discussion Items

Senate Leadership Duties Discussion

Lala

- I think there is a discrepancy from last week when I was not chairing and prior weeks when I was. Legislation was sent to senate leadership and I took the step to pointing out to senators that things were incomplete, had formatting errors, or they were citing things that were not relevant to the discussion at hand. I want to make clear that it is not required of senate leadership. In fact, it's not a duty that they carry to fix themselves but we are not allowed to go change things around. That is not how that works. There is an ability to request that senators motion something on the following week once it is ready fully. Of course, per standing rules, there is the ability to send something to the Attorney General's office if there is a concern that it runs contrary to legal code. That is the procedural end. The more cultural end of this discussion is that I think there should be a mutual understanding between senate leadership and our body that we try to send legislation on time, and hopefully, early so we can catch these kinds of things and have that discussion. And if there are concerns that something is incomplete, you can send it to us to get our thoughts, before putting it on the agenda. We will do our best to look at legislation and make sure it's ready on the senate floor. I welcome any questions.

Sussman

- There is nothing from stopping you from sending legislation early on in your process. That is what we are here to do, to help guide you through the legislative process, and to make sure your bills are what you want them to be. Please just contact us and text us, we're happy to help.

Malhis

- Now that we are on this topic about how often times, we bring legislation with errors in it to the senate floor. Let's say this bill has a lot of issues and it's a lot for committees to fix. What is the best route for fixing it up so that authors can rewrite it significantly? Can it die and they reprise it? How do we kill the bill?

Lala
- There can be a first and second on legislation and not be a call to question, or you could refer it to a committee and make the motion to change comma into apostrophe or whatever, so when you go into committee you know what you're going to say. Those are the two most immediate options.

Malhis
- Let's say it's already in the senate and it's been to a few committees, and we want to kill it. Is that still possible?

Lala
- You're saying, it's been referred out of committee? It can be killed in committee.

Malhis
- An example is Senator Wahidullah's bill which had consistent errors in the bill. How would it work for her to remove it from the standing floor and make it go back to her editing or fixing it?

Lala
- The options there would be motion to X legislation not to move past the Liaison Committee or you can motion to refer it to senate, and then majority votes no.

Malhis
- But doesn't it still need to be referred from committee?

Lala
- Bills die all the time in the California legislature because chairman didn't want it

Malhis
- It doesn't get tabled

Lala
- Correct.

Sussman
- This past summer when I was interning in the legislative office, there were motions time and time again from authors who wanted to change wordings from bills that just motion to withdraw. That is not in our standing policy but we can add that to our standing policy. The author can have the option to withdraw.

Luken

- Standing Policy 4, Section E, Letter A, it says all proposals, nder new business, seeking official agenda placement must submitted to the Associated Students Internal Vice President by Tuesday at 11am on the Tuesday preceding each senate meeting on Wednesday. This seems to contradict our standing rules, but I would think that standing policy supersedes standing rules. Can we get clarification on that one?

Lala
- Okay. You are sure that is the most updated?

Luken
- No, I'm not sure but its the legal code library

Lala
- There is still discretion for senate leadership there. It just didn't work. People had nowhere near enough time necessary to read it which is why we added an additional layer and moved the time line up. For our standing rules to contravene, 11am Tuesday would be 12pm Tuesday, it would be after whatever's in legal code. It would not be a violation of legal code, but a violation of standing rules.

Pascher
- I think we can just all operate on a moving forward basis. I would like to proclaim or explain that my position is not to place blame on senate leadership nor authors. I think this is just a misunderstanding. Moving forward, Senate leadership shouldn't accept legislation that is incorrect, and I don't think that you should go and correct it because that's overstepping your duty. The two authors, just do your very best to proof read and send your legislation to Senate Leadership on time. That is all.

Senate Retreat Reimbursement and Committee Rooms

Lala

Lala

- I created a Google Drive folder where the receipts from our fall trip to Sacramento should be uploaded. I don't think all senators have added their receipts yet. That was the process staff instructed us to follow. We're wondering what the next steps are for reimbursement for the trip.

Holly
I'm a little behind on my emails—as you can imagine, I receive many. The next steps are for me to get the necessary documents signed. After that, Finance will process the payments for you all. Once processed, a check can be issued, or a BARC payment is available if anyone prefers that method. All required documentation just needs to be signed and submitted.

Lala:
These are just receipts—does that suffice?

Holly
That should be fine. If I need anything additional from anyone, I'll reach out to you directly.

Than

- I did see that we had this Google Drive, but I already submitted my requisition form to the Finance Committee. I'm not sure how that aligns with this process. Since I drove, I'll be reimbursed at 70 cents per mile through them.

Lala
Holly, I know you wanted everything in a central place. This seems like an exception, what do you think?

Holly:
- That's fine. The idea behind the shared drive was simply to avoid having 15 separate emails for reimbursement requests. It's more efficient to have everything in one place so no one's reimbursement gets lost. But if forms have already been submitted, that's okay. If you have any additional questions, feel free to reach out.

Malhis

- In agreement with Holly, Aryan and Sebastian highly encourage everyone to use Holly's drive for this. It's past the original deadline, but as long as you submit the supporting documents, it should go smoothly if Holly processes it. Staff can sign off on it instead of it becoming a bigger issue.

Lala

- I also have a staffrelated question. Holly, you reached out to us about making committee meetings public and having them held in designated rooms at their respective times. I've spoken with Chair Luken about this, and there's widespread interest. What would the next steps be to make that happen?

Holly

- I'll collect the committee meeting times and send them to UCEN. If all committees confirm their schedules, I'll move forward with the reservations. I can reserve rooms for the remainder of the quarter or for the entire academic year if you'd like to keep the same meeting times. I'm just waiting on confirmation and the preferred length of the reservation.

Lala
- Have any committee meeting times changed?

Than

Yes, ours changed from Wednesdays 12–2 p.m. to Fridays 12–2 p.m. I did update a form, but I'll make sure to adjust it again.

Lala

Do chairs still need to submit forms, Holly? I'm guessing it's quarter to quarter since the times can change.

Holly

- You don't need to submit anything additional right now. Between Michael and me, we should have everything we need. I'll review the information and send the agreements over soon.

Lala

- Do you know when we would be able to implement this?

Holly

- It would be great if we could start using the rooms for next week's meetings, but it depends on how quickly UCEN can process the reservation requests. I'll keep everyone updated.

A Bill To Clean Up Legal Code Open Forum

Pascher

- This is just there to be like a socratic sort of thing. I urge you to go page by page and when you have a question, put them on there. If it's not on the agenda, then go to the previous agenda, it's the same document every time. I have it on repeat send to make sure it gets on the agenda every time.

Sussman

- Please go through this bill. It's important and reshaping a lot of aspects of this association. Please do your due diligence.

Jiang

- There is a lot about GGC that's not correct, do you also want that update too?
- Also want GGC updates

Sussman

- If it passed, I'll make that change in the bill. There are a lot of instances where bills have passed and they haven't been updated.

Lala

- Are you saying that there are things wrong in GGC legal code that should be changed?

Jiang

- No, the legal code about GGC is wrong in terms of their constitutional involvement.

Lala

- As in it hasn't been updated

Jiang

- Yes

Sussman

- I'll look through it

Than

- Do you want the Liaison committees forum to be put on that? The Senators might find it helpful too.

Pascher

- I don't see any harm in that.  Put it on there

Malhis

- I'm sorry about this. I just realized that I got a message from Senator Ola-Olaitan and I didn't check my DMs, but to motion her to be excused.

Than

- I motioned it

Malhis

- It was not updated on the attendance though

Lala

- Oh yeah

Chaudhry- Malhis
Objection- Luken

Luken

- I'd like to add an appointment for someone who should be on our committee. If we could do that real quick, I would appreciate it.

Pascher
- I would also like to add appointments.

Lala
- Is there chair approval?

Pascher
- Yes, of course. She's here

Lala
- Let's have Senator Sherkin do it then.

Malhis
- I'm so confused. Why are these appointments being made now? If someone can elaborate.

Seconded Rescinded- Malhis

Luken
- This was someone who was hired on Monday which is after the deadline, that is why we are adding it late. That's it.

Malhis
- This can't wait till next week? This is a procedural thing. Even if it's late, we've all had appointments. This is a procedural thing. Even if it is late, we've all had appointments. They can still be a part of the meeting just as a non-voting member.

Ono
- Can we recognize Senator Sherkin? She's been raising her hand.

Sherkin
- Given the moment I'd also like to add my appointments. I can send the language to Senator Sussman.

Lala
- We are not going to remember this in 10 years, let's approve this.

Luken
- I could have made you aware, or I can just make a motion to tell the whole body what is going on so everyone can know.

Sussman
- Just text me the names please.

Malhis
- To all of the committees adding appointments, do you have an official interview process?

- Do u have an official interviewing process or
